The Bluejays began the tourney Friday night by defeating North Carolina State in three sets. "I thought it was a great match of two really good teams," Booth said. "I liked our demeanor in set one and set two and also in set three." The coach said she was pleased to see her team finish off the Tigers and not allow them to get back into the match. LINCOLN — The Nebraska volleyball team showed it can rally on Saturday after coming up just short of a comeback during the third set. The Huskers put TCU away for good in the fourth set for a 25-15, 25-23, 23-25, 25-13 win at the Devaney Center during their final match of the Ameritas Players Challenge. Nebraska improved to 3-0 as it wrapped up the first week of the season.

Sophomore outside hitter Harper Murray led the Huskers with 20 kills — 19 came over the final three sets. She had seven kills in the clinching fourth set. Lindsay Krause added nine kills, and Merritt Beason had eight kills and two aces. TCU extended the match by winning the third set 25-23. Nebraska had rallied from deficits of 13-10 and 21-20 to take a 22-21 lead. But TCU won three straight points late when the Huskers had some hitting errors. Alexis Roberson had the 49ers rookie shot

SAN FRANCISCO — 49ers wide receiver Ricky Pearsall was shot Saturday during an attempted robbery in central San Francisco, city authorities said.

Mayor London Breed said in a post on the social platform X that Pearsall was shot in Union Square. She did not immediately provide details about his condition.

“My thoughts are with Ricky and his family at this time,” Breed said.

San Francisco police said in a statement that Pearsall was injured while being robbed, and so was the suspect. Both were taken to the hospital, the statement said. Police did not return calls seeking further information.

A message was left for a spokesperson for the team. “He’s good,” 49ers teammate Deebo Samuel posted on X. “Thank god!!!!”

Pearsall, 23, was drafted in the first round in April by the 49ers with the 31st overall pick but has has been slowed by injuries since joining the team.

Helmet QR codes blocked by NCAA

STILLWATER, Okla. — The NCAA blocked Oklahoma State from placing QR codes on its players’ helmets, a move that would have allowed fans to link to a team fund and donate to the program’s name, image and likeness money pool, the school announced before Saturday’s game against South Dakota State.

“Oklahoma State interprets the QR code stickers as institutional decals permitted under NCAA bylaws,” the university said in a news release. “The NCAA interprets the QR code stickers as advertising and/or commercial marks, which are not permitted.”

The QR codes will not appear on the Cowboys’ helmets, but they will be placed in larger and more prominent locations throughout Boone Pickens Stadium, including the 6,160-square foot video board, according to the news release.

VOLLEYBALL: WYOMING DEF. UNO DEF. 25-23, 25-18, 31-29

Mavs fight to the end but can’t avoid sweep

GENE SCHINZEL
World-Herald Staff Writer

UNO held off five match points Saturday afternoon, but eventually Wyoming won a third-set battle to close out a 25-23, 25-18, 31-29 win over the Mavericks at Baxter Arena.

Wyoming used long runs throughout the match to play from in front as the Cowgirls improved to 2-0 at the Omaha Invite.

“We just had some breakdowns on our side,” UNO coach Matt Buttermore said. “We didn’t put a lot of pressure on them.”

UNO played its most consistent in the third set when it led most of the way. Wyoming took its first lead in the third set at 21-20 and had its first match point at 24-23.

UNO answered each time the Cowgirls had match point, and the Mavs had a set point of their own at 29-28. But Wyoming won the next three points to close out the victory.

UNO nearly grabbed momentum in the first set with its own comeback.

Wyoming built a 17-10 lead, but UNO put together an 11-2 run capped by a Brynlee Arnold kill for a 20-19 lead. But Wyoming won five of the top six rallies on its way to the early lead.

Buttermore said his team didn’t respond well in the second set as the Cowgirls finished with a 9-3 run.

“We came out flat and credit to Wyoming, they didn’t,” Buttermore said. “That was the difference.”

UNO had four players with double-digit kills against Houston on Friday, but the leader Saturday was Kali Jurgensmeier with eight. UNO was outthit .242 to .107.

UNO will face Washington State in its final match of the season-opening tournament. Both teams are 0-2 as Houston defeated Washington State in four sets Saturday. Houston outlasted UNO in five sets Friday.

Buttermore said the Mavs will need to block better and play better in transition against Washington State.

team can start to struggle,” she said. “Had we messed around to start that third set and give them some confidence, it could be a different outcome.”

Creighton expected a tough match against Missouri, which swept Drake on Friday night.

“I think we were super excited,” outside hitter Ava Martin said. “We felt like it would be a good test.”

The Bluejays passed that test by starting strong, opening a 17-13 advantage in the first set. The Tigers got within a point twice but couldn’t get it tied as Creighton stubbornly held its lead.

Missouri fought off one set point on a kill by Mychael Vernon — a thorn in the Bluejays’ side all night — but clinched the set on a kill by Elise Goetzinger.

The second set was close throughout with neither team able to open up much more than a one-point lead. It was tied at 18, 19 and 20 before the Tigers inched ahead on a kill by Vernon.

Then came a key moment in the match when a shot by Vernon that landed wide was ruled to have been tipped by Norah Sis. Booth challenged the call and after replay it was reversed, tying the set at 21.

“You get in the huddle and you find out whether you touched it or not,” the coach said. “Norah said she didn’t touch it so I thought it was going to go our way.”

Creighton won the next three points and won the set soon after on a Tigers’ attack error.

The Bluejays maintained that pressure in the third set, opening a 12-4 lead. Missouri never got closer than five points the rest of the way, and Creighton captured the match when a serve by Missouri’s Janet deMarrais sailed long. Sis paced the Bluejays with 13 kills while Martin had 12 and Goetzinger 10. Kendra Wait doled out 36 assists.

“I think tonight we had more outside sets,” Wait said. “Ava and Norah were going for it and they had the hot hands.”

Vernon finished with a match-high 14 kills for Missouri while Jordan Iliff had 12. Regan Haith, a middle blocker from Lincoln Pius X, had five.
